I'm incredibly dissapointed that all the work that has been done by the TSA can be dissolved down to Security Theater. SecureFlight is nothing more than an excuse to abrograte our rights as American's to privacy and freedom of travels.

This program does nothing more than create an internal passport program which is beyond reprehensible. Tens of thousands of citizens are having their rights violated to test a system that fundamentally has not, cannot, and will never work.

Tax dollars should be spent on systems that actually work such as better training and better baggage/cargo handling techniques as opposed to repeatedly violating the Privacy Act. The terrorist watch list program is a joke and also doesn't work.

This is the USA not Communist Russia or Nazi Germany, though with the TSA it's hard to tell the difference.
